It's not a Puzzle, it's a Service: following the 2017 initiative by Shuchi Chawla and the STOC'19 Edit-a-Thon, let's identify as many Wikipedia TCS entries that either don't exist, or need improving. Note that you don't need to actually create the page, or make the improvement: you just need to flag them, so that Future Work may happen.

“What's in it for me,” you ask?

Good question! Satisfaction. Pride. A sense of duty fulfilled. Also, the 3 people having suggested the most (relevant, justified) improvements will score.
